

Evaluation Criteria for Inclusion and Publication of Pilots on the Groningen Website

These criteria are designed to ensure that the database remains a validated source of data exchange pilots from across the world, submitted by trusted, authentic organizations.

1. The lead organization is a member of, or signatory to, the GDN; or,
2. is an officially recognized entity, such as an accredited postsecondary institution, a government agency, an officially recognized and trusted data exchange hub, a trusted technology provider that supports secure data exchange, or a consortium of organizations that meet the above criteria;
3. The submission is informative, complete and well-presented;
4. The submission is not designed to solicit new business, rather it is intended to advance our collective understanding and experience with new ways to enhance secure and trusted data exchange worldwide.

The Pilot subcommittee co-chairs are responsible for determining which submissions will be published. They will consult with members of the subcommittees of the GDN as needed. Submitters will be notified of the decision in writing.
